About Our Company

Dear Friends and Customers,

Our goal at Rainsville Church Pew Company is quite simple: to create quality furnishings worthy of belonging in a house of worship.

We adhere to a tradition of excellence started years ago in 1958 by our founder, the late Ted Johnson. His hand-crafted pews were fashioned from rich hardwoods into beautiful, functional, and durable designs. He took personal pride in crafting fine furniture, as much a tribute to its purpose as a statement of old fashioned artistry and workmanship.

Over 50 years later, our company continues that tradition of craftsmanship because some things should never change. We are still family owned and operated. We still take pride in the quality of the furniture we produce and in the God-given talent to create it. True to our heritage, each pew we produce is a personal statement of our commitment to excellence.

We offer these carefully crafted pieces to grace your place of worship now and to last for generations to come. You can also request custom designs or matching additions to your existing furnishings. We are driven only by your vision and complete satisfaction.

Our personalized service includes planning, design, manufacturing and installation of your furnishings. We realize the significance and long range impact of your decision to choose Rainsville Church Pew for your furnishings, so we also understand there are no minor details...every step of the process will receive our same attention to quality and craftsmanship.

We urge you to take full advantage of our experienced representative's understanding of your building program and your congregation's unique needs. Consultation with our staff comes at no additional cost or obligation to you.

Pew Ends

Pew ends start with the highest quality Red Oak, carefully selected for texture and grain patterns. Solid wood pew ends are constructed using a butcher block technique for strength and beauty. White finished ends are made from two layers of 1" MDF board, which allows for a smooth finish. All pew ends are finished to a thickness of 2". Other woods and custom-made designs are available on request.

Custom Furniture

Our standard offerings in pews and other church furnishings will satisfy most needs, but for a truly distinctive church interior we can also create custom designs that reflect your congregation's unique tastes and desires.

Our experienced designers will formulate a look and feel for your complete worship environment, from pew ends to pulpits and lecterns, from chairs to screens, rails, desks and benches.

Custom Furniture

We'll work from your concepts, or develop our own based on your input. Of course, you retain total freedom and flexibility in custom designs, from the selection of the wood to stains and decorative appointments.

When you're satisfied with the designs, our skilled artisans will bring your vision to life, using our time tested techniques and attention to every detail. The result will be a church sanctuary unlike any other, as distinctive as the personality of your congregation.

Pew Refinishing and Upholstering

Refinishing your existing pews can be an affordable alternative to all new furniture. With our upholstery and refinishing expertise, we can help you achieve a fresh, new look with your present furnishings.

Your pews can be upholstered on your premises without interruption of Sunday services. Refinishing is done at our plant and can be done with minimal interruption. You may choose from a wide selection of the latest styles and fabrics available. Your decorating potential is virtually unlimited.

Rainsville Church Pew Company offers the same quality, service and customer satisfaction in pew upholstery and refinishing that we offer in the church furnishings made in our plant. Quality work in each job we undertake is a 50-year tradition with us.

Our representatives can provide additional information about custom options, designed around your specifications. Contact us for free estimates with no obligation.
